

FLOUR PRICES TO DROP SOON

Government Will Regulate Output Unless Conditions Are Bettered.

Chicago, May 6.—Julius N. Barnes, chairman of the Food Administration, announced today prices of flour must drop to effect the regulations of 1917 and 1918. When purchases of flour were limited to requirements of thirty days and housewives were permitted to purchase only small amounts.

Mr. Barnes made the announcement in an address to members of the Chicago Board of Trade. He said he was opposed to regulation, but some way must be found to control unwarranted inflation in prices.

"When trading privileges," he said, "are permitted to bring on periods of harmful speculation, it is time for the government to call a halt."

"On May 13 we will hold a conference in New York with the advisory committee of the millers, bakers and food dealers to draw up agreements which we hope will remove the present or future necessity of food regulations."

"The Food Administration wants trade agreements. Food values today must not be measured by dollars and cents, but by human life."

FIGHTING 77TH IN BIG PARADE

New York Capitulates as Veterans Return from French Battlefields.

New York, May 6.—The Seventy-seventh Division (New York's Own) passed up Fifth avenue today through a lane of massed humanity which waved flags, shouted, cheered and gave every evidence that it appreciated the heroism of its marching sons, husbands, brothers and sweethearts had displayed in the Argonne forest fighting.

Twenty-two thousand strong, the division captured New York far more easily than it had taken Boche positions in France. New York surrendered without complaint, and displayed pleasure in doing it.

Boys as the young veterans of the great war appeared, many of the officers looked yet more youthful. Some had the appearance of being in their teens. But in the whole division there was not one man who was not every inch a soldier. No body of men parading on Fifth avenue since Fritz cried "enough" has marched with the precision which characterized the swing of the Seventy-seventh boys. Led by Maj. Gen. Alexander, they kept moving, eyes straight to the front, as steadily and apparently with as set a purpose as if they saw the enemy ahead. Exactly two hours were required for the division to pass the grandstand.

Mascot in Line.
Marching as proudly as any doughboy in the ranks was a magnificent specimen of the Russian wolfhound. She wore a blanket inscribed "Bang, the Argonne Mascot." Bang was carrying a German dispatch in the Argonne when captured by Private C. Greene of the division's headquarters troop.

"Kamerad," was issuing from the mouth of a German soldier, painted on a drumhead of the 30th Infantry, and the drummer seemed to take particular delight in whaling the enemy's countenance with his stick.

"Give it to him!" yelled onlookers, and the drummer grinned and responded with extra hard wallops.

In sharp contrast with the reception given the live heroes was that accorded the symbols of the companies of the dead. Complete silence reigned all along the line, and many an eye was wet as the companies of the dead passed. Spectators on the reviewing stands rose and stood at attention and men uncovered.

"I hate like sin to see those men go, because of the strong feeling of comradeship and friendship I have for them," said Maj. Gen. Alexander after the parade. "The job for which the Seventy-seventh Division men were inducted into service is over. They performed their task in a soldierly and workmanlike manner and will now return to civil life. The time has come to fashion the plowshare out of the sword, and these men will now do as well in private life as they did for their country."

Today's parade was viewed by visiting relatives of the soldiers from all parts of the State, as far west as Buffalo and as far north as the Canadian border.

PROTEST NEW EXPORT RATES

Pacific Coast Cities Declare
Revised Traffic Charges
Discriminatory.

Reconsideration of export traffic rates, effective April 2, was asked of Edward Chambers, director of traffic, United States Railroad Administration, yesterday by thirty delegates of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, now in executive session here.

The Railroad Administration is accused of discrimination seriously threatening the immediate trade and industrial future of all Pacific Coast cities.

A letter to Chambers yesterday sets forth that the new export rates do not establish a balanced relationship between the two coasts. A separate rate will be asked of the Railroad Administration for different commodities.

A special export committee on rates, appointed by the general committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, consists of C. J. France, executive secretary of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco; W. D. Benson, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco; and others.

APPEAL TO SAVE JEWS IN POLAND

Representatives of Race
Here Protest Massacres
And Persecution.

Concentrated influence of the Jewish population of the United States will be brought to bear on the Peace Conference at Paris to stop massacres and general persecution of Jews in Poland.

Mass meetings, protesting against the mistreatment of Jews in Poland, are being arranged throughout the country, with Washington and New York as centers.

As a prelude to a mass meeting to be held here, which is expected to be the largest ever participated in by Washington Jews, a cablegram, endorsed by every local Jewish organization, yesterday was sent to President Wilson urging him to take steps to have outrages against the Jews stopped.

A copy of the cablegram was sent to Ambassador Grew, secretary of the United States Peace Commission at Paris, with the request it be circulated among members of the commission.

A similar cablegram was sent to the President by the Jews of New York. Dr. Simon Wolf is the leader of the movement here. Arrangements are under way to obtain the largest hall possible to stage the mass meeting. Prominent speakers will address the gathering.

HUN MUST SIGN OR BE ISOLATED

Supreme Economic Council
At Paris Planning Means Of Coercing Germans.

Paris, May 6.—The Germans must sign the peace treaty or face economic isolation.

This was made plain today when the blockade section of the Supreme Economic Council was instructed to draw up plans for economic isolation of Germany—to be put into effect if the enemy attempts to carry out its threat to refuse the peace terms.

Recent dispatches from Berlin have indicated the confidence of the Germans in their ability to evade the terms of the treaty was based on the belief that public opinion in allied countries would not permit further military action against Germany. Today's developments showed the allies will not depend upon the direct action of arms, but the indirect action of an iron bound blockade, to enforce the treaty.

Germans in Trouble.

Information from various German sources indicates the country is in a serious condition, financially, industrially and politically.

Allied commercial and financial aid is needed to restore industrial conditions to normal. The allies have been sending large quantities of food into Germany for some time.

Sudden reestablishment of the economic blockade—possibly more rigorous even than during the war—would soon, it is believed, as an indication, however, that the blockade will be renewed only as a last resort, it was simultaneously announced today that pending acceptance or refusal of the treaty certain financial restrictions on Germany will be further relaxed.

Allies in United Front.

The final step toward full restoration of Italy's rights in the Peace Conference was taken this morning when the credentials of her delegates were submitted to the Germans. The other allied representatives had exchanged credentials with the Germans last week.

The allies will thus present a united front when the treaty is submitted to the Germans in Versailles at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, as Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino already are en route to Paris.

Paris, May 6.—Baron Makino, in a statement to the press, said it is Japan's policy to hand back the Shantung peninsula in full sovereignty to China, retaining only such economic privileges as were granted Germany, together with the right to establish a settlement under the usual condition at Tsing Tao.

Italy Inserted in Treaty.

Paris, May 6.—Supporting the American report that Italy was not invited to return to the Peace Conference, it was learned today that the final draft of the treaty did not contain Italy's name, and it was necessary to write it in.
